Cecil D. Andrus joins RockStar Resources Board of Directors

Coeur d’Alene, Idaho, September 12, 2013. RockStar Resources, Inc., announced today that former Idaho Governor Cecil D. Andrus has joined the Company’s Board of Directors.

“We are very pleased that Governor Andrus has joined the RockStar’s board,” said Dennis E. Wheeler, Chairman of RockStar. “As the former Governor of Idaho, Interior Secretary for the United States, and founder of the Andrus Center for Public Policy at Boise State University, Governor Andrus has built his long and very successful public career around solving problems. He brings to the board invaluable experience and insight in government and natural resources policy, and we welcome his unparalleled stewardship as RockStar grows as a new mining company.”

Governor Andrus, an Idaho resident, was a four-term Governor of Idaho from 1971 to 1977 and again from 1987 to 1995. He was U.S. Secretary of the Interior from 1977 to 1981 and was instrumental in passage through Congress of the Alaska Lands Act. In 1995, he founded the Andrus Center for Public Policy at Boise State University, which is dedicated to independent, non-partisan policy formation on critical issues confronting Idaho, the American West and the United States.

RockStar Resources, Inc. is a newly-formed privately held company aligning investors with a premier mining management team to bring exponential value to advanced gold and/or silver exploration projects. The company is incorporated in Idaho and headquartered in Coeur d’Alene, Idaho.
